

The Committee Room

The Committee Room is where the Officers and Fellows of Lady Margaret Hall meet to conduct most of their meetings, and is reached via a corridor lined with portraits of College alumni. This is a warmly atmospheric room, redolent of Oxford tradition but small enough to have an inviting and intimate feel. Tall sash windows give a view of the Fellows' Lawn, which, outside term time, can be used for a drinks reception ahead of a meal. The Committee Room is perfect for private dining and for meetings which require a special setting.
