

The Monson Room

The generous proportions and warm and inviting ambience of the Monson Room make it make it an excellent venue for conferences. The room works well booked in conjunction with the adjoining Simpkins Lee theatre, for refreshments during seminars or for drinks receptions following a lecture. French windows open onto the lawn of the Lannon Quad, allowing delegates to take their coffee outside on sunny days. The Monson Room is also equipped with its own kitchen, so our Chefs and catering team can provide a private, fine dining experience in this expansive and atmospheric room.
