

Lavinia Talbot Room

Warm, yellow walls and a sunny aspect make the Lavinia Talbot Room a very pleasant meeting and teaching room. With an original fireplace and mix of wooden furniture, the room has a relaxed and homely feel, perfect for encouraging open and creative sessions. French windows give access to a balcony overlooking the gardens, and individual features, such as the patterned tiles around the fireplace, add an attractive touch. The room is situated next to Talbot Hall and makes an ideal breakout space. It is accessed via steps from Wolfson Quad.
